Seymour Delivers an Address on Worms

SARATOGA, N. Y., Sept. 10.—After the agricultural meeting last evening Gov. Seymour was serenaded at the Union Hotel by his political friends. He thanked them for the compliment and said he would remember with pleasure his visit to Saratoga. He then introduced General Granger, who said as Seymour was the foremost man in the country and had come to-day to speak on agriculture, it was not proper for him to speak on politics. He believed the election of Seymour would bring peace.

In the evening there was a discussion, when Gov. Seymour was present and spoke on the subject of the removal of worms from the soil. He came here he said in pursuance of an old engagement and felt some hesitation at doing so in his present position, but was glad he had carried out his promise, as courtesies received from persons politically opposed to him were very gratifying, for they had laid aside all questions except those of common interests.

But what is to become of me and my mother?" All her colleagues surrounded her, weeping and trying to calm her, but her grief burst forth again and again. Finally the manager hastened to her side, gave her a thousand francs, and told her that he would give her a benefit in the course of a few days. Interview with Gen. Longstreet.

[From the New York Tribune, Aug. 22.]

Yesterday, a chieftain of the late rebellion, Gen. James Longstreet, arrived in New York. Since the war he accepted the situation and has used his influence to counsel and guide his people, and to lead them safely back to an enduring peace. Yesterday evening a reporter of the Tribune called upon the General at the New York Hotel. Imagine, seated at a table, a tall, well built man in a suit of black. The face is a kindly, pleasant one, the beard is sandy and grizzled, and the cheeks are flushed. The fore head is high and the eyes are gray and soft in expression. The mouth squarely cut denotes decision, and there is that quiet resolute air about him that reminds one of Gen. Grant, whom he [illegible] resembles in looks and manner. Although suffering from an attack of fever, he bore himself resolutely above pain, and after dinner conversed freely upon affairs in the South. As a portion of the conversation bears directly upon the coming campaign, I give it in full.

Reporter. Do you think we will have better days in the Southern States?

Gen. Longstreet. Assuredly. The cotton crop has been very large this year, and we will soon have capital of our own to work upon.

R. Suppose Seymour is elected, do you think we will have another war?

Gen. L. I can not say as to that, but I believe that if he is elected it will open all the old issues, and we will have trouble, but I don't think he will be elected.

R. What do you think of Grant?

Gen. L. I think he is a fair man. I met him at West Point. I think he is above meanness. His silence is grand.

R. There is one thing I would like to ask. It is in regard to the negro.

Gen. L. (smiling). I will tell you all I know.

R. Will he keep his contracts in regard to labor?

Gen. L. I can relate my own [illegible]. My men have worked well. They like to have a white man come out in the field and tell them what to do. There was always a [illegible] of lazy men who would sit in the [illegible] [illegible] give their orders. These [illegible] to have trouble.

Gen. L. Ah, that can never be; it is silly to think of it. They can never be [illegible] than they are to-day, and the whites of the South know it, but they are misled by the politicians.

R. In regard to the acts of Reconstruction?

I think if [illegible] he could have been elected, and the So[illegible] people would rally about him [illegible] [illegible]ing it. The State Senate.

An angry and perhaps a protracted controversy over the organization of the State Senate seems likely to occur at the Capital. As this is a matter which may take such a shape as to deeply engage the attention of the public, it may be as well to ascertain some of the more prominent facts relating to it.

When the State Senate was first organized it consisted of sixteen members. The Senatorial and Representative Districts were defined in the Constitution, and a provision was inserted in that instrument setting forth the manner in which the number might be increased. Six Senators have since been added, one in Multnomah, and five in the counties east of the Cascade mountains. The representation of the other counties in the Senate remains as first established. In 1864, Wasco, which had before that time elected a Senator jointly with Clackamas, chose a Senator for herself. Baker county also elected a Senator that year, —thus increasing the number to eighteen. The Legislature, in 1864, passed an act authorizing Multnomah county to elect one additional Senator, and giving one to each of the counties of Umatilla, Union and Grant. In 1866 these additional Senators were elected, and took their seats at the session of that year.

The Constitution of the State provides that, "The Senators elect at the first session of the Legislative Assembly shall be divided by lot into two equal classes, as nearly as may be, and the seats of the Senators of the first class shall be vacated at the expiration of two years, and those of the second class at the expiration of four years; so that one-half, as nearly as possible, shall be chosen biennually forever thereafter. And in case of the increase of the number of Senators, they shall be so annexed by lot to one or the other of the two classes as to keep them as nearly equal as possible." Now it happens that this requirement of the Constitution has not been strictly attended to. The four additional Senators provided for by the act of 1864 were all elected two years ago, and were not divided into the two classes. Each of them therefore claim a seat for the full term of four years. (We should add that Mr. Stearns of Grant, having left that county, his seat became vacant, and last June the people elected F. C. Sels to fill the unexpired term.) Last June ten Senators were elected for full terms, leaving twelve whose terms will expire in 1870. Thus the two classes stand ten to twelve—no great discrepancy, but still, not so "nearly equal" as they might be.

It is assumed by some that had lots been cast two years ago, one of the Senators from Multnomah would inevitably have gone out of office. They even go further than this, and assume that Senator Dolph is the person whose term has expired. Both these assumptions are fallacies. There were at least four persons to cast lots and but one short term to be drawn to make the two classes equal, and therefore but one chance in four that a short term would fall upon a Multnomah Senator. The short term might have been drawn,—and the chances are that it would have been drawn,—by a Senator in a county east of the mountains. And even if the short term had fallen to this county, it would still have remained to cast lots between the Multnomah Senators to decide which should have the long and which the short term. It is therefore a fallacy to assume that had lots been cast two years ago this county would necessarily have drawn a short term; and it is still a greater fallacy to assume that Senator Dolph is the man to whom the short term would have fallen. Granting that the Senate two years ago neglected a duty which ought to have been performed, it is nevertheless an error to assume that there was necessarily a vacancy in this county to be filled at the last election. We know it will be answered that the Republican party ran a candidate for the Senate in this county last June. The action of a political convention, however, legally concludes nothing. The Republicans ran a candidate because they knew the Democrats were going to do the same; and because, they thought if the lots were cast at this session of the Legislature and a vacancy should happen in this county, it would be well to have a man there to take the seat. They supposed they could elect their candidate; and wishing to be on the safe side, and prepared for possible contingencies, their convention nominated Judge Shattuck and they voted for him. The mere fact that the opposing parties ran candidates in this county for the State Senate is of no consequence whatever in determining this controversy.

The additional Senators from Baker, Umatilla and Grant stand on precisely the same footing with the additional Senator from this county; and there is no more reason for assuming that the term of one of the Multnomah Senators expired this year, and that he should therefore go out of office, than there would be for assuming the same in regard to either of the others from the counties mentioned. There would be precisely the same reason for unseating Ison of Baker, or Ford of Umatilla (Democrats,) as there would be for unseating one of the Multnomah Senators. If the matter is not to stand as it is, (and as it was left at the last session), the only way by which any change could be made, would be for the whole number of the Senators who were added by act of 1864, to cast lots to ascertain to whom the short term would fall. In that case Multnomah might or might not draw it. This is the only way by which any shadow of right could be established for making any change of Senators for Multnomah. In the present state of affairs Mr. Stout has no more right to intrude in the Senate for the purpose of claiming a seat than he would have to push himself upon the Supreme Bench to take part in rendering decisions there pending.

The two classes in the Senate are so nearly equal that no great harm would be done in permitting them to remain as they are. But if any change is to be made there is only one mode of doing it, as the above statement of the case clearly shows. The short term might fall upon Baker or Umatilla, in which case Hon. Ison or Hon. Ford would not be wanted at the Capitol. Or it might fall upon Grant, in which case the term of Mr. Stearns would have expired, and Mr. Sels, the newly elected Senator, would be entitled to a full term. The idea of assuming that the vacancy would necessarily occur in Multnomah, and that Senator Dolph is the person who would go out, is thoroughly Democratic, but based on very poor logic. As affairs now stand Mr. Stout has no business whatever in the Senate Chamber, except as a private citizen and a looker on.

A Pardonable Curiosity

The tone of the Democratic organs of the North has been for some time so truculent and revolutionary that their Southern coadjutors are manifesting much anxiety to know whether they are actually in earnest. For instance, the New York World has been indulging most prodigally in fiery threats and warlike proclamations, and the Richmond Whig, heading an article on the subject with the inquiry, "What does it all mean," anxiously propounds these questions:

"Does the World expect war? Does it hold that its party in the North in certain contingencies ought to take up arms? Does it believe they will? Remembering how certain Democratic leaders and organs in the North were in the habit of talking when the late hostilities were brewing, we are a little uncertain how to interpret the seemingly pregnant sentences of our New York contemporary."

Before the next rebellion is commenced the Southern Democrats want a perfect understanding established between the two wings of their party. They want the bond of alliance drawn up in regular style, and the Northern Democracy pledged and bound with due formality, "by these presents," to stand by their friends. Remembering the past, the caution the Southern Democrats manifest is as natural as it is commendable. For did not their Northern brethren promise them vigorous support in the late war? Did not ex-President Pierce assure Jefferson Davis that if war should occur, the fight would be among the Northern people and in the streets of Northern cities? And was not the tone of the entire Democratic press of the North during the whole period of the rebellion quite as warlike as it can possibly be now? If war breaks out again the Southern Democrats want it distinctly understood by their Northern allies that there is to be no backing out. Blair ought to have a conference with Wade Hampton and settle this matter. The Southern wing of the party want to know whether their Northern friends are really in earnest, or whether they are only blowing again.

"Carpet Baggers."

They who stigmatize as carpet-baggers men who obtain office in States other than those of their birth, may profitably recall the scorn which Webster, in reply to Hayne, showered on those who refused to recognize merit because it happened to spring up beyond the limits of their own State and neighborhood. Tried by the Southern rule, many of our most illustrious statesmen must be adjudged carpet-baggers. The New York Sun makes a list of some of them. "Rufus King, of New York, was a carpet-bagger from Massachusetts, Albert Gallatin, of Pennsylvania, was a carpet-bagger from Switzerland; Thomas Addis Emmet, of New York, was a carpet-bagger from Ireland; Andrew Jackson, of Tennessee, was a carpet-bagger from South Carolina; Henry Clay, of Kentucky, and Wm. H. Harrison, of Ohio, were carpet-baggers from New Hampshire; Silas Wright, of New York, Stephen A. Douglas, of Illinois, and Thaddeus Stevens, of Pennsylvania, were carpet-baggers from Vermont; Edward Livingston and Zachary Taylor, of Louisiana, were carpet-baggers, the one from New York and the other from Kentucky—which latter State sent Abraham Lincoln, a carpet-bagger to Illinois, while New Jersey deputed John McLean with his carpet-bag to Ohio, and Pennsylvania sent Robert J. Walker, similarly equipped, to Mississippi. James R. Doolittle, of Wisconsin, is a carpet-bagger from New York, and Frank P. Blair, of Missouri, is a carpet-bagger from Kentucky—which State despatched Jefferson Davis, carpet-bag in hand, to Mississippi, whence he went to Richmond as President of the Confederacy, three of his Cabinet being carpet-baggers, viz: Benjamin, Memminger, and Mallory; James Brooks, of New York, is a carpet-bagger from Maine, and Andrew Johnson himself, though hailing from Tennessee, carried thither a small carpet-bag, doubtless the product of his own handi-work, from North Carolina."

The Vermont Election.

It is impossible for the Herald to touch a subject without giving it a false coloring. In attempting to belittle the Republican victory in Vermont, that paper assumes in the first place that the majority is only 24,774, when the telegraphic dispatch stated that the "returns from all but small towns" footed up that majority. No doubt when the returns are all counted, it will be found that the majority is as great as first reported. In the next place, it compares the majority (24,774) with the majority Lincoln received in 1864, (29,098); and argues therefore a great Democratic gain. Now had it been honest, it would would have compared the present majority with the majority gained in the election for Governor just prior to the last Presidential election. That majority was 18,977. Even supposing that the majority this year is only 24,774, it is 6,000 larger than in the corresponding election four years ago. It is well known that a larger vote is brought out in Presidential elections than in any others. Thus, while Vermont gave 18,977 Republican majority in September, 1864, she gave Lincoln 29,098 majority, two months afterwards. The same rule would increase the Republican majoritp in the State to nearly 40,000 for Grant in November.

Speaking of the Republican meeting in Sacramento on the evening of the 4th inst., the Record says: "We heard last night of several prominent Democrats who propose declaring themselves in favor of Grant and Colfax. And this reminds us of a little affair we might just as well mention as not. It is well known that heretofore Shingle Springs, El Dorado county, has cast but six Union votes. Thursday evening a Grant and Colfax Club was formed, and thirty persons signed the roll. The leader of this Grant movement was Mr. Davidson, a heretofore well known Democrat. This is what we call a straw." The Marysville Appeal also says: "We hear of gains to the Union party in nearly every precinct in Yuba and Sutter counties—a change of from one to a dozen voters in each. This is no political misstatement for effect, but the naked truth. We obtain our information from a gentleman in this city who comes in contact almost daily with people from the country precincts."

SCIENTIFIC DIAGNOSIS.—They have something at Salem which resembles a case of small pox. The Unionist gives the following lucid and scientific diagnosis of the case:

Dr. Belt was called yesterday to attend a family on the Santiam, which, report said, had a case of small pox. Dr. Belt says the man is covered with spots, but says it does not resemble that disease, and is satisfied that there is needless alarm on the subject. The family has lately arrived from the States, and that they have been at the place for three weeks, and the patient was taken sick only a few days ago, and thinks it is not probable that the disease would not have lain dormant for that length of time, and that several children on the steamer were similarly sick, and was not thought to be that disease.

The New York Commercial Advertiser of the 20th says: "We continue to receive gratifying assurances that our adopted German fellow citizens will vote almost in solid phalanx for Grant and Colfax. The Rochester Democrat states that many of the principal bankers and merchants in the State, who have hitherto been strong Democrats, are now working zealously for the Republican nominees, because they believe that national ruin would be the consequence of a Democratic victory. Three German financiers have hitherto persuaded large numbers of their relatives and friends in the fatherland to invest their savings in our gold bearing bonds. They now witness a deliberate and expressed determination on the part of the Democratic leaders to repudiate our solemn obligations, place them in a wrong light before their kindred, and defraud the latter. Such a spectacle can but have an all powerful influence in leading our German voters to steer clear of the Democratic camp. The Boston Transcript assures us that the German vote of that city and vicinity will be far more decidedly Republican than ever before.

Schnapps evidently sell slowly. Udolpho Wolfe, proprietor of Schiedam Schnapps, has issued a proclamation or rather a pamphlet which is intended for Southern circulation. Wolfe, being a Democrat, mixes a little of his politics with a little of his gin, and hopes much from the compound. The first few pages of Wolfe's pamphlet, gives the doings of the New York Democratic National Convention. Then follows a short but exceedingly sensational biography of the Wolfe concluding with the information that "during the whole war no one in New York stood up for the South, or did more to alleviate the distress of the Southern prisoners, than Mr. Wolfe." The pamphlet, in fact, contains two biographies of two very great men, Udolpho Wolfe and Horatio Seymour. Wolfe was born in Richmond, Virginia, Seymour in Pompey, New York. Wolfe's father was named Benjamin, Seymour's father Henry. The parents of Udolpho died before he had invented his Aromatic Schiedam Schnapps, which might have prolonged the life of the venerable couple to this very hour. Udolpho discovered the Schnapps in 1848.

"CALIFORNIA IN DANGER!"—Such is the exclamation of the San Francisco Dispatch, a Democratic paper, which has roused from its lethargic slumbers and made the discovery that California is likely to go for Grant. The idea has struck the Dispatch so suddenly, and with so much force that it grows hysterical, and arming itself with a terrific arsenal of bristling exclamation points, thus exhorts the Democracy:

> Democrats, why stand ye all the day idle? know ye not that the Philistines are upon you? To arms! to arms!! gird up your loins and prepare for the onset. The enemy, with forces concentrated and compact, is moving with solid phalanx to the attack, whilst you sleep in your tents or squabble among yourselves over petty offices. Rouse up and prepare for the fray, or defeat and disgrace will overtake you. Organize, organize. Delay not a moment longer, but organize at once in every county, city, village and precinct in the State. Do not be deceived. The State is in danger.

The New York World has taken to denouncing all the Union Generals. General Sheridan and General Mower are called by it "impetuous, insubordinate men;" Ord "an inflated popinjay;" Meade, the hero of Gettysburg, with McDowell and Canby, are pronounced "wooden literalists;" Pope and Sickles are berated as "political courtesans." But "butcher" Forrest and renegade Preston are "brave men," and Wade Hampton "does honor to the name of American citizen."

Married, in Salt Lake City, 16th inst., in the presence of Saints, Brigham Young to Mrs. I. R. Martin, Miss Emily P. Martin, Miss L. M. Pendergrast, Mrs R. M. Jenickson, and Miss Susie P. Cleveland, all of the county of Berks, England. No cards.

Forrest proposes to repeat the Fort Pillow massacre on a general plan. He says if the Radicals don't behave, he will "toot his horn" again, and that he "will be in favor of giving no quarter." Forrest is absolutely spoiling for want of a little judicious hanging.

It appears that all the ex Presidents are for Seymour and Blair. The Buffalo Courier announces that Fillmore is for them. Pierce, of course, is. The only remaining ex President is Davis. Does anybody doubt how he stands?

General Dix, like every other patriotic soldier of good judgment, opposes Seymour. "If any man attempts to haul down the American flag, shoot him on the spot;" don't make him President.

Insane Asylum.

[FOR THE OREGONIAN.]

In an article in the last Advocate allusion was made to the fact that nearly half the taxes we pay go to pay the expense of keeping the insane and idiotic. Some means ought to be devised to reduce this enormous expense. The present system was always defective and never intended to be permanent. The idiotic ought to be kept in the counties where they reside. If they are indigent they should be provided for in a county poor house, at first until such time as the State makes provision for their culture and education. This cannot be done in the present condition of the State. We should first have a penitentiary, insane asylum and State house. It is not pretended that the idiotic, as now kept, receive any mental culture whatever. They are simply furnished with food and clothing. The mental and moral effect of having the idiotic in constant contact with insane persons, is bad. They can truly say "I am not mad, but soon shall be." Had the Legislature taken this view of the subject, many thousands of dollars would have been saved to the State during the last six years. The idiotic can be kept at less expense and trouble than the insane.

The directors of the asylum for the deaf, dumb and blind in California take charge of all such persons committed to their care, board, clothe and instruct them for two dollars and fifty cents a week. Provisions are cheaper in this State and the idiotic and county poor can be kept for a less price here. It has not cost the proprietors of the asylum in this State more than that, while they have been receiving twelve dollars a week and are now receiving ten dollars a week in gold coin. I have a special plan to suggest, but if the Legislature can't adopt a better one, all such persons had better be sent to California where they can be kept for two dollars and fifty cents per week. As to the insane, the State ought to take them into its own hands. A large and beautiful tract of land was purchased by the State three years ago for that purpose. It is situated one-half mile east of Salem, on high and beautiful ground surrounded by shade trees, and supplied with abundance of good water taken from the Santiam river. The location is healthy and it can be made one of the most beautiful places in the State. The convicts are now making brick which can be used in the erection of buildings. Temporary buildings can be put up, before the contract with Hawthorne & Loryea expires, and after better ones can be put up these can be used for other purposes. These are not party questions but appeal to every man's pocket, sense of justice and propriety, if he has either. Yours etc. TAXES.

The Cincinnati Commercial of the 25th, has the following graphic announcement: "The entire Johnson party in this county has gone over to Grant and Colfax; and the organ of the party, the National Union, defines its position as a Republican sheet. The last gentleman heard from is Mr. Thomas Spooner, who is authoritatively announced as a Grant man."

The Indianapolis Journal says the late Johnson party [illegible] preceded their Cincinnati friends. It knows of but one man of any prominence who was connected in the State, who is not now for Grant and Colfax. The exception is Judge Goodinge. Another war is not popular with Johnson's friends in Indiana.

The Montgomery (Ala.) Sentinel styles the Tammany Declaration of principles: "The Platform of the Second Rebellion."

The Louisville Journal says that where two or three Democrats are gathered together, there will the spirit of Democracy be also. Thats true, no matter what the tax is.

THE CHRONICLES.

And it came to pass in the third year of the reign of George the Third, who was ruler over the land of Webfoot, that the news went through out all the land that KOHN & FISHEL, at No. 91 Front street, Portland, were selling Dry Goods and Clothing at fabulously low prices, and all the people heard it and they straightway came unto that place; and when they had demanded the price at KOHN & FISHEL'S store they marveled and said, "The half has not been told us, for here we can buy all kinds of Clothing and Dry Goods for ourselves, our wives and our little ones much cheaper than at any other place in all the land of Webfoot." And from that day even until now the people have come in great numbers to buy their goods of KOHN & FISHEL.

Wear and Tear.—When the constitution is weak and the system depressed by the wear and tear of business life which makes such tree and on drafts upon the body and mind, unless some healthful and strengthening tonic is resorted to, prostration will ensue, and disease creep unawares upon the victim of negligence. But if which is a genial and purely vegetable stimulant, be timely administered, the organization will resist and baffle the vains of epidemic and changes of temperature incidental to this season of the year, which disorders the nerves of the fields.

There is an active and permanent vitality in this remedy, which will prove of great benefit to the broken down and shattered constitution. It is the only tonic of which the stimulating principle is perfectly pure. Its basis is the essential principle of sound rye, which is admitted by analytical chemists to be the most harmless of stimulants and this fluid is refined from crudities which belong to it as it comes from the manufacturer. The other ingredients are composed of medicinal plants and herbs, and contain not one harmful element in all their composition.

DOES THE COURT KNOW HERSELF? ...of the proceedings in the Commissioners' Court, of Satu quite an extraordinary and extra judicial charact learn that an officer of the law, the presiding one of our courts of inferior jurisdiction pre bill of costs to the Hon. Board, which, in their di was deemed unjust and exorbitant, and which Hon. Board moved by considerations of actuated by the spirit of retrenchment, in the ex their high prerogative, proceed to disallow, in par court of inferior jurisdiction deeming the dem and legal, endeavored to convince the Hon. that fact. But the Hon. Board, or members thereof, wouldn't be convinced, and enough, a war of words ensued, in which it is epithets were used, and some feeling not strictly characteristic of "eminently Christian men." In fact to such a pitch did the feeli of the court of inferior jurisdiction gr the unusual spirit of retrenchment, which p ras the Court of superior power, that it beca essary for said superior court to amerce the in the sum of ten dollars to allay his exa are informed that the amount was forth the inferior court was still unapp intention to see the matter th "Does the Court know herself?" We fear not full extent of the law."

PROSPEROUS.—Ben Holladay & Co. have purch A. J. Cook & Co. the contract for R. R., East Side, and it is their intention to thro influence, energy and resources into the work of p forward this important enterprise. Arrang been been made for employing four hundred addi laborers at the earliest moment at which they can tained. That number of Chinese are to come from fornia, and will be set to work at various points Willamette Valley. Matters pertaining to railroad receive a great impetus from this important transa and the fact that one great capitalist has been up spot, and, seeing for himself, deems it entirely safe such substantial aid, will be of incalculable recting the attention of others to our State, and ind them thus to invest some of their capital in the de ment of the great resources of Oregon. Mr. Holla thoroughly posted in regard to the value of such e prise, and of the importance of securing an early in a new and rapidly growing country like this, and w dict that under his auspices the East Side Railroad w carried through with great energy. With a line of ra up the valley on each side of the river, which w pect to see in a short time, there is no will not make astonishing strides toward a po of wealth, influence and great importance among the S of the Union.

THREE A DAY.—Three runaways occurred last day, or rather one double runaway, and one s A team, belonging to some one whom we di learn, came down Front street with lightning-like and ran against the team of Mr. Terwilliger bridge, frightening them greatly and causing the break loose from their driver and tear down stree pace that was not surpassed by Welch's horse which the race at the White House. Mr. Terwilliger and other man riding with him were thrown from the w but fortunately not seriously injured. The first was checked near the bridge, but the second stre away down Front street some distance, before they be made to halt. Both wagons were demolished, pieces being left strewn along the pathway of the but luckily the the horses came through unhurt. afternoon Judge Strong's horse took fright at some and broke from his moorings near the Judge's and ran up Stark Street to Second, where the bugg harness were slipped and the untrammeled beast quick time up Second street out of sight. People s exercise a little more care with teams in the city. persons, on Saturday, very narrowly escaped bei over by the frightened horses on Front street.

DON'T LOOK WELL.—In complying with the ordi requiring the placing of awning posts at the outer of the sidewalks some of our people have nice improvements to their premises by erecting stantial frames with canvass or plank coverings, ex ing as far out as the posts are required to be set, others have merely moved out the posts and length the rafters, without extending the roof, which gives structure the appearance of being pieced, and mater detracts from that uniformity which the ordinance h view, as well as the beauty of our streets. By a greater expenditure good awnings could be made, w in every respect would be far superior to the ragged cerns which front many of our best buildings.

ITEMS.—Richardson sold the north half of lot 4 in b 4, corner of Front and Taylor streets, to Phil. Cohe Saturday for $4,500. Many of our citizens, m the lawyers and politicians are gone to Salem. contracts for the improvement of North First, Fourth, North Fifth, North Sixth, and D streets, were let on Saturday on account of the illness some of the ing committee. The contracts will be let to-day work on the U. S. Custom House at Astoria is suspe for the present. The weather for a few days past been markedly pleasant, and the health of the ci generally good.

A SNAG.—The Hunt, on her trip from the Casc last Saturday, ran on a snag near the mouth of the lamette. The snag struck her forward of the wheel and knocking a hole through the inner side of the w house, came up through the cabin floor and loose some of the furniture from its fastenings. A few b work repaired all damages.

KEIL & CO., who keep the well known, excellent at Aurora, have rented a building for the purpos keeping a restaurant on the Fair grounds near Sal They will open out during the week before, and fur all who wish to a square meal at any time until the Fair closes. They understand their business.

TO-MORROW.—The Washington County Agricult Fair commences on the Fair Grounds near Hillsbor morrow. A large number is expected to be in att ance. Jamison's express will make daily trips out back, for all who wish to go from this city.

REV. JAS. A. DALY.—We learn that this tale young minister has been called to the pastorate of First Congregational Church at Stockton, Cal. We here it is his intention to lecture at different points in t ere before he leaves our State.

NOT ARRIVED.—The John L. Stephens, which sai from San Francisco for this port last Thursday, therefore is now due, had not arrived at the time of ing to press. She will likely reach this city at an ea hour to-day.

RACING.—At the Riverside track last Saturday Taylor pony won the first heat in 3:23. Welch's p won the second and third and therefore won the rac

AFFAIRS IN IDAHO AND EASTERN OREGON.—[illegible] most noticeable feature [illegible] the fact that it is only about 200 miles from the [illegible] R. R. They have the R. R. [illegible] (Bill Beachey) [illegible] able that any new ledges [illegible] R. R. mines. [illegible] now running. Three of the leading companies have erected new steam [illegible] works at [illegible] year and the principal [illegible] their mine and future prosperity of [illegible] operations. The construction of the big tunnel [illegible] the base of War Eagle Mountain lengthwise [illegible] will cut the best veins in the camp at right angles and 1,200 feet below the surface. [illegible] put on foot for the interests [illegible] completion of the Salt Lake and [illegible] the U. P. R. R. which [illegible] all [illegible] that, too, within three years. [illegible] Dodge (Chief Engineer of the U. P. R. R.) [illegible] assistants and [illegible] soldiers as escorts started from [illegible] more generally called [illegible] starting point is eighty miles southwest of the [illegible] viously agreed upon [illegible] by Mr. Stephens some two years since, in his map [illegible] branch from Salt Lake to [illegible] claimed that the General by taking the above named as a starting point, will pass to the southward of [illegible] rock and Bear river range of mountains (the only heavy [illegible]) and cross Snake river at Salmon falls then [illegible] down the north side of Farewell Bend and recross [illegible] up the valley of Burnt river [illegible] valley and thence on the best line to the Columbia [illegible] most direct and most practicable route. Any route which the company prefer, it would seem [illegible] the people, in as much as the citizens of Oregon [illegible] all parts of Oregon, will be greatly benefitted and that [illegible] without money and without price [illegible] Dodge and party may be expected to visit this city by the [illegible] at which time we may be able to [illegible] more definite and satisfactory information in the [illegible] of this branch railroad. At Silver City they use green [illegible] per and six [illegible] for cash. They also use snow instead of ice, which is brought in wagons from the [illegible] in sight of town. C. M. Lockwood, who has the contract for carrying the daily mail from Salt Lake to the Dalles from the 1st of October next to the 1st of July 1870, last week took three hundred head of horses and mules over to the line from Boise City to Salt Lake, he having let the contract to Mr. John Hailey to carry the mail on his daily line of stages from Boise to the Dalles for the same time. Wells, Fargo & Co. are also running an express and passenger line from Boise to Salt Lake, and the public may reap the benefit of two [illegible] rival lines from Boise to Salt Lake in the shape of low fares. Hailey's line from Umatilla to Boise City, now make the whole distance in two days and [illegible] hours running time, stopping over six hours each at the two night stations, (La Grande and Miller's,) making the [illegible] time ever made over this route.

Boise City is ready to see the railroad completed near [illegible] city, and her citizens believe it will be [illegible] as soon as the Union Company form a junction with the Central Company. A road company there have a wagon road partly completed to Gravelly Ford (a point on the Central Railroad 208 miles from Boise). They have [illegible] $4,700 to aid the Oregon and Idaho Telegraph Company to complete the line from Celilo to Boise. The following are the amounts the different towns on the [illegible] line have either subscribed or pledged to this company: Umatilla $1,200; Walla Walla $5,000; [illegible] $2,500; Baker City $800; Boise City $4,700; [illegible] City $2,000. Idaho City will also form a branch line to Boise, and thence the citizens of Boise City agree to extend the line to Bear river station, 280 miles east of Boise, and there they would connect with the line now [illegible] from Salt Lake to Helena or Virginia City [illegible] we have direct connection with the States and all the world without going by San Francisco.

[illegible] COURT KNOW HERSELF.—Some of the proceedings [illegible] Laborers' Court of Saturday were of [illegible] extraordinary and extra judicial character. We [illegible] that an officer of the law, the presiding genius of one of our courts of inferior jurisdiction, presented a bill of costs to the Hon. Board, which in their discretion, was [illegible] unjust and exorbitant, and which the said Hon. Board, moved by considerations of economy and [illegible] by the spirit of retrenchment in the one case of this high [illegible], proceed to disallow in part. The [illegible] jurisdiction deeming the demand just and right, endeavored to convince the Hon. Board of [illegible] but the Hon. Board, or especially one of the [illegible] wouldn't be convinced, and naturally enough, a war of words ensued in which it is said some [illegible] were used, and some feeling displayed, which is [illegible] characteristic of "eminently Christian gentlemen." In fact to such a pitch did the indignation of the court of inferior jurisdiction grow, at [illegible] spirit of retrenchment which seemed to [illegible] Court of superior power, that it became necessary for said superior court to appease the inferior court [illegible] of ten dollars to allay his exasperation. We [illegible] that the amount was forthcoming although [illegible] court was still unappeased and declared his [illegible] the matter through on the outside. [illegible] know herself?" We fear not to "the [illegible] of the law."

[illegible]—Holladay & Co. have purchased of [illegible] the contract for constructing the O. C. [illegible] Side, and it is their intention to throw their [illegible] and resources into the work of pushing [illegible] important enterprise. Arrangements have [illegible] for employing four hundred additional [illegible] the earliest moment at which they can be [illegible] that number of Chinese are to come from California [illegible] will be set to work at various points in the [illegible] valley. Matters pertaining to railroads will [illegible] impetus from this important transaction [illegible] that one great capitalist has been upon the [illegible] for himself, deems it entirely safe to lend [illegible] and will be of incalculable benefit in di[illegible] the attention of others to our State, and inducing them to invest some of their capital in the development of the great resources of Oregon. Mr. Holladay is [illegible] to the value of such enterprise, and the importance of securing an early foothold in a rapidly growing country like this, and we predict [illegible] his success the East Side railroad will be [illegible] with great energy. With a line of railroad [illegible] on each side of the river, which we expect [illegible] in a short time, there is no reason why Oregon [illegible] make astonishing strides toward a position [illegible] and great importance among the States.

The first team [illegible] near the bridge, but the second stretched [illegible] Front street some distance before they could [illegible] halt. Both wagons were demolished, the [illegible] strewn along the pathway of the flight [illegible] the horses came through unhurt. In the [illegible] Judge Strong's horse took fright at a nothing [illegible] from his "moorings" near the Judge's office [illegible] Stark Street to Second, where the buggy and [illegible] slipped and the untrammeled beast made [illegible] street out of sight. People should [illegible] more care with teams in the city. [illegible] on Saturday, very narrowly escaped being run [illegible] by the frightened horses on Front street.

[illegible]—In complying with the ordinance [illegible] of awning posts at the outer edge [illegible] of our people have made very [illegible] to their premises by erecting awnings [illegible] with canvass or plank coverings, extend[illegible] on the posts are required to be set, while [illegible] have merely moved out the posts and lengthened [illegible] without extending the roof which gives the [illegible] of being pieced, and [illegible] uniformity which the ordinance has in [illegible] the beauty of our streets. By a little [illegible], good awnings could be made which would be far superior to the ragged [illegible] of our best buildings.

A Still Day in Autumn.

I love to wander through the woodland hoary,
In the soft gloom of the Autumnal day,
When Summer gathers up her robes of glory
And like a dream of beauty glides away.

How through each loved, familiar path she lingers,
Serenely smiling through the golden mist,
Tinting the wild grape with her tiny fingers,
Till the cool emerald turns to amethyst:

Kindling the faint stars of the hazel, shining
To light the gloom of Autumn's mouldering halls,
With hoary plumes the clematis entwining,
Where o'er the rock her withered garment falls.

When lights are on the sleepy upland waning,
Beneath dark clouds along the horizon piled,
Till the faint sunbeams through their fingers raining
Bathe all the hills in melancholy gold.

The moist winds breathe of crisped leaves and flowers,
In the damp hollows of the woodland sown,
Mingled the freshness of Autumnal showers
With spicy airs from cedern alleys blown.

Beside the brook and on the umbered meadow,
Where yellow fern tufts fleck the faded ground,
With folded lids beneath their palmy shadow
The gentian nods, in downy slumbers bound.

Upon those soft, fringed lids the bee sits brooding,
Like a fond lover loth to say farewell—
Or, with shut wings, through silken folds intruding,
Creeps near her heart his drowsy tale to tell.

The little birds upon the hillside lonely
Flirt noiselessly along from spray to spray,
Silent as a sweet, wandering thought that only
Shows its bright wings and softly glides away.

The scentless flowers in the warm sunlight dreaming,
Forget to breathe their fullness of delight,
And through the tranced woods soft airs are streaming,
Still as a dew-fall on a Summer night.

So, in my heart, a sweet unwonted feeling
Stirs, like the wind in ocean's hollow swell,
Through all its secret chambers sadly stealing,
Yet finds no word its mystic charms to tell.

NASBY.

THE CONVERSION OF ELDER PENNIBACKER—HE SEES A VISION, WHICH PUTS HIS FEET ON SOLID DEMOCRATIC GROUND.

Post Offis Confedrit X Roads,
(Which is in the State uv Kentucky,)
August 15, 15, 1868.

Joy to the world! Elder Pennibacker, which, ever sence the Noo York Convenshun, hez ben a skoffer and a sore-hed, is wunst more within the fold. There wuz more rejoicin when he came back than over all in the fold, for he wuz a venerable lamb wich hed gone astray. Like the prodigal son, we slayed for him the fatted calf.

I was particularly pleased with his return. He wuz the kindest uv men, and made the best corn whisky in this sockshun. He hed allus bin in the habit of sendin, now and then, a jug to his Paster at the Post Offis, but sence his dissatisfaction and consekent estrangement, these delikit attenshuns, so grateful to one in frail health, hex bin intermitted. But that is all over, thank Heven. Yesterday morning he come into the offis bearin that wich to me is the most blessed uv peace offerins, the old familyer jug, wich, he fell onto my neck and wept.

"Parson!" sed he, his voice quiverin with emotion, and tears chasin each other down his nose. "It's over. I've sinned and hev repented. Forgive me!"

"Elder!" sed I, assumin a dignified air, "he who departs and cumeth back—don't kick over that jug for the stopper ain't in tite—is to me more precious than if he hadn't kicked over the traces. Bless yoo, my son. Here's a tin cup wich will do."

The Elder then told me how he hed bin converted. He didn't bleeve in Seymore, coz he is pledged to pay the debt in greenbax, and he detested Blair becoz in marryin him we marry the entire Blair family, wich is too much. He didn't bleeve that either uv em wuz troo to the South. Feelin pekoolyerly bitter, he went to bed the nite afore, and nursin his wrath he fell asleep and dreamed.

He dreamed that he wuz in a vast assemblage uv the Democracy, very like the Nashuel Convenshun. There wuz shoutin and hollerin, but he walked about gloomy and sad, filled with the most fearful forebodins.

Presently in his dream he approacht the grand stand wich wuz okkepied by the leaders and devoted to the moosik ov the occasion. Here a most pekoolyer site met his gaze. He notist one small soft toned instrument, holler, and very much like a flute, evidently made fur peceful straines, out uv wich Wade Hampton wuz a strainin and a blowin the most feroshus and war-like sounds. The hed uv the instrument wuz Seymour's hed, and as he lookt closter he found it assoomed the genral appearance uv the man. It tried hard to keep the smooth melojus tones to wich it wuz normelly adapted, but the grim-visaged Hampton, whose wind is inexhaustible, blowd sich strong blasts and fingered the holes so adruitly that it playd his toons and his only.

Just beside him stood Boregard a playin a brass intrument wich wuz shaped so like Blare ez to be him, wich instrument wuz uv the trombone nacher. Boregard hed no trouble with it. It wuz ez discurdent nachrelly ez it could be, and it wuz splendidly adapted to the capassity uv the player.

I give the dream henceforth in the Elder's own words:

"Wat in thunder," sed I to a man wich seemed to be sort of engineerin the concert, "wat's thunder is Seemore and Blare and sich ez them furnishin moosic for strate Suthern Dimocracy fur? Are we to be compelled to submit to the tool uv bondholders and to Fedral sojers and sich? Ez for wunst I will never"

"Don't talk like a eggrejis ass!" sed this man. "Hevn't you any sents? Can't you see that Seymour and Blare are meerely the instruments wich are played onto, and that Booregard and Wade Hampton are the individdols who furnis the wind and finger the holes. Listen how gradoly "Dixie" and the "Bony Bloo Flag" swells out onto the air and fills surroundin space! And see ez Boregard shoves out the trombone how it hez knockt off the stand all them wich from former attachment to the instroomeut wuz close to it, and how sweetly the pizen breth wich is bein blowed, tho its combined with that uv the instroomeut itself, hex smothered all them whose prosence wood hev embarest us. Miles O'Reilly it killed, and all that p[illegible]ous bread of War Demokrats like him, are layin, overpowered with it, flat onto their [illegible]. They may possibly survive, but they are so stoopified that they wont git up till after that opportunity for hurtin is passed."

"Then," sed the Elder, "my dream changed. Methawt the elecshun wuz over, and that we had triumphed. I wuz to home in Kentucky. All here wuz [illegible]. The Buro offisers hed folded ther tents like the Arabs and silently stole away. The military wuz withdrawn, and ther wuz nothin bloo in the South, save and except the facesuv the few Northern men wich coodent git away. The very air wuz full uv the gosts uv the ded Fedral soljers in the South, all uv wich wore an expreshun uv hoomiliashen es tho they felt they had bin manufaktered into gosts for very considerabel less than nothin. Reconstrucshen hed bin undone, and all laws enfranchisin niggers and deprivin our heroes uv suffrage wuz bustid. We wuz free. Ther hed bin a general cleanin out uv Northern settlers, carpet baggers and obstreperous niggers. I notist with infinit pleasure that Pollock's store hed bin gutted, and Joe Bigler's corpse (he spoke this in a low ton, and lookin fearfly over his shoulder to make shoor no one heerd him) wuz a lyin on the square.

Sich of the niggers ez cood be controlled were at work under laws we hed passed for em regulatin labor, at an average of $4 per month, and sich ez hed become too independent for that, hed either bin shot or driven out uv the country. The amendments, givin uv em votes and sich, hed bin overruled, and in Tennessee and the other States they hed bin redoost to their normal speer, and the power wuz wunst more in the hands uv sich patriots ez Forrest, and sich. Browlow hed bin hung, their noosepapers de[s]troyed, and them wich supported em scattered to the four winds. In the Corners all wuz peace. We hed niggers on our plantations as before the war, and we, the roolin race, wuz releeved uv the degradin labor wich so onfits a Cacieshan for the enjoyment uv life. The entire Corners havin nothin to do and plenty to live on, wuz perpetoeally gatherin in front uv Bascom's pitchin quoppers, runnin quarter races, and ever and anon ceasing their manly amoosements to quaff the flowin boles wich he supplied. We cood hear, any time, the cheerful yelp uv bloodhounds in the swamp beyond the Run, chasin runaways, and ez ther wuz no longer any law agin ther shootin niggers, skacely a day passed that one or more wuz not killed. My distillery wuz a runnin full blast, the smoke uv the torment ascendin from its chimney forever. Oh, it was gorgus!

"And is this to be?" asked I uv the disembodied spirit uv Bishop Poke, wich wuz showin it to me.

"All this and more," returned he. "Thus will the South regain her lost rites. Thus will the lost cause be restored. Elect Seymore and Blare, and all will be well."

"At this pint I awoke," sed the Elder, "feelin how unjust I hed bin, how vilely I hed sinned and how fearfully I hed departed. I wuz a goin back on the greenback question! Wat is greenbax to this? Wat is payin a debt in one way or an ther compared to the extacy uv wallopin niggers, chasin Northern men and havin our institooshens back agin? Wat is a mere greenback debt compared to the luxury uv havin the entire Northern Democrats in our hands agin, for us to mould es we will do and ez we like? Why, I woodent give the luxury uv havin a Noo Yorker on his knees afore me ez uv old, a minit, for all the taxes I will hev to pay for a century. Besides, and be busted out afresh, "if Boregard can make Seymore pipe Dixie, can't he also by different fingerin make the same instrument play Repoodiashen? I shoud say so. We hev em, Parson, we hev em. Forgive me! forgive me!"

And we embraced and wept, and took a drink, and wept agin for joy. Verily my way is now pleasant, and my path is made strate. In the exuberance uv his joy he will keep my basket and my store—or rather, my jug and flask—full for a month.

TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.

Portland, Og'n, July 28, 1868.

As there are a great many people sick and dying of a disease called Cholera Morbus, I would call attention to the Chinese Doctor Jim. Having eaten green fruit I was taken very bad with the above disease, and lay insensible for four hours, when Dr. Jim was called, and in 20 minutes after he gave me the first dose of medicine I was easy and asleep. I believe that there is no other doctor on the Pacific coast that could have relieved me as quick as Dr. Jim did.

A sure remedy for Chills and Fever, AYER'S AGUE CURE never fails.

SOOTHING AND BRACING.—There is no preparation in existence which has such a soothing effect in cases of nervous excitement as

DR. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

Although the fame of this renowned invigorant rests mainly on its astonishing cures of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, and intestinal disorders, it is equally efficacious in nervous complaints. Thousands of ladies use it as a remedy for hysteria, fluttering of the heart, nervous headaches, vertigo, general debility and all peculiar disturbances and derangements to which, as a sex, they are subject. It cheers and lightens the depressed mental powers as well as strengthens the body, and its use is never followed by any unpleasant reaction. Sold by all Druggists and dealers everywhere.

EXTINGUISHER

SELF-ACTING FIRE ENGINE!

THIS INVENTION HAS FOR ITS OBJECT THE extinguishing of Fires in a more instantaneous manner than has hitherto been discovered.

The advantages to be derived from the use of the EXTINGUISHER are as follows:

Every fire begins on a small scale, and its rapid and uncontrollable increase is owing to the fact that at the time of its commencement (when every minute of delay in checking it is of the utmost importance) no means are ready at hand.

The EXTINGUISHER is the only Engine that fills this requirement.

It is always ready for use, though standing unused for years.

It puts out Fire instantly.

It saves the great deluge of water now used for this purpose.

It is as effective in the hands of a Boy as the most experienced Fireman.

It is portable, and as easily handled as a bucket of water.

It possesses within itself the power of a force-pump, and as effective as a Steam Engine.

It is the only known invention that will put out Fires from Kerosene, Tar, Naphthaline, and combustible materials now in common use.

PRICE—No. 1, $50; No. 2, $55; No. 3, $60.

CAUTION.

To all whom it may concern: One A. His statements are not worth a denial. His game is "Bluff," which, if he would only take the case to Court, would soon be played out. Don't believe him.

I would be glad to get a case into the United States Court and get a decision. That would forever stop the mouth of Myers and his misrepresentations. Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary, 616 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases of years standing and Ulcerated legs successfully treated.

Horrible Disease.

How many thousands of young men [illegible] [illegible]

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, [illegible] by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combated by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequently insanity. If relief is not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails in effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person whom he cannot satisfactorily to him that he was cured of his complaint by one of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them, nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written agreement, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in a registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders, who, with bogus sworn certificates, fill the city with [illegible]. Some of the self styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen and broken down, too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tramps, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, retired or office keepers, etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory and you will not find their Medical Institutes there, but you will find their former occupations. Look at the Directory for 1862 and 1863. The only way to avoid imposition is to make enquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets; for, as advertising physicians, in eight cases out of ten, are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patient's letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 616 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco. Post Office Box 252.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 252 ON THE LETTER.

Consultations FREE.

Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the Daily Oregonian.

HIRAM SMITH'S

Ophthalmic Panacea!

IS WITHOUT DOUBT THE MOST WONDERFUL EYE HEALER that has yet been discovered.

IT CURES the most stubborn and hopeless cases of CHRONIC INFLAMMATIONS, GRANULATED LIDS, FILMS, &c., as has been sufficiently demonstrated during the few months in which it has been brought to public notice. The proprietors are so confident of its INFALLIBILITY that he WARRANTS A CURE OR REFUNDS THE MONEY. It can do the eyes no harm, and a trial of it is therefore a small thing in expense to the patient if a cure is not effected.

It has cured cases of FIVE, SIX, NINE, FIFTEEN, and even EIGHTEEN YEARS' standing. Harrisburg, Linn county, Oregon, and elsewhere. Some of the following persons will bear witness:

L. P. MOORE,	NATHANIEL PELL
A. L. WALLACE,	G. WARE,
